Test For V-12 Navy Program To Be Given At St. Stanislaus

Navy Designates Local School To Give Tests For Navy College Training Program on April 2nd, 1943—Test To Be Administered By Brother Linus, Vice President of St. Stanislaus

Saint Stanislaus has been designated by the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the United States Navy as a testing center to administer the qualifying tests for the Navy College Training Program, known as the V-12 program, these tests to be given on April 2, 1943 from 9:00 A. M. to 11:00 A. M. Brother Peter, President of Saint Stanislaus will have charge of the arrangements, and the tests will be administered by Brother Linus, Vice-President of Saint Stanislaus.

The purpose of the V-12 program is to produce Naval Officers. High School Seniors who appear to have potentialities for ultimate selection as Officers will be chosen for College training. The plan contemplates that this college training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline.

The general qualifications are: Candidates must be: 1. High School Seniors who will have attained their 17th but not their 20th birthdays by that date, or 2. High school graduates who will have attained their 17th birthday but not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943.

2. A male citizen of the United States.

3. Be morally and physically qualified for this program, including a minimum uncorrected visual acuity of 18/20 for each eye.

4. Be unmarried, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned unless sooner released by the Navy Department.

5. Evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Following the tests, successful candidates will be requested to report to the nearest Office of Naval Officer Procurement, where final selection will be made by a selection committee after candidates have passed a thorough physical examination.

Candidates who pass the mental and the physical tests and are selected by the Naval Selection Committee, will be enrolled in the V-12, United States Navy Reserves. Those who are under 18 at the time of their enlistment will be placed on inactive status until they are ordered to college. Those who are 18 years old or older will be inducted under selective service procedure and then placed on inactive duty until ordered to College.

Students may express a preference for the branch of service, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard, at the time of their assignment to the V-12 program. This choice will not be binding, however, for final assignment will be based on demonstrated ability, the needs of the service, and counseling during the first two semesters.

Students may also express a preliminary choice of courses of study, such as Medicine, Engineering, etc. Assignment and continuance in these courses will be based on the needs of the service and demonstrated competence of the candidates.

Students to be trained under the Navy college training program will receive one and one-third years of study at college. (This will constitute four college terms—equivalent to two college years during peace time.) Those who are in training for specialized service, including medical, dental, engineering officer candidates, etc., will vary from 6 to 12 terms.

Students under the V-12 program will be required to maintain the Navy's standard of discipline, although military activities will be kept at a minimum and subordinated to academic training.

Further communications from Washington have extended the arrangements for these qualifying tests to the Army Specialized Training Program.

The purpose of the Army Specialized Training Program is to train, at the collegiate level, men in technical and professional skills required by the Army. Engineers of all types, doctors, linguists, physicists, mathematicians, and students of foreign areas are needed in large numbers, and the Army has established this program in those colleges and universities where the training can best be given.

The eligibility of the individual for the Army Specialized Training Program is not fully established until he has successfully completed the normal twelve or thirteen weeks of basic military training immediately following his induction into the Army. Success on the proposed test, (given on April 2nd) will provide the candidate with a certificate

GIVE TO THE RED CROSS

Quota Must Be Reached—
Paint The Sign Red
Before March 30th.

After hearing Mr. William Colhoun, assistant Army Red Cross Field Director, give the interesting and informative information of the use of Red Cross funds in service for our armed forces both here and overseas can any person even hesitate to give to the limit for the Red Cross War Fund Drive. The quota must be reached so why put off the response that every American citizen should make—that every American citizen must make.

Mr. Mauffray brought out so forcibly the fact that it would profit us nothing if we lose our country, our freedom and happiness.

And on the other hand can you as a human being pass on the other side of the road when boys are lying suffering from want of surgical dressings—nurses aid and doctor's attention. It is your contribution to the war fund drive that makes it possible for these boys to have this needed attention.

The local office of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Red Cross reports 428 cases given service this year from the office and in this number were 246 emergency furloughs. In addition to this assistance has been given in securing necessary affidavits to support application for government allowances to dependents of service men. 28 messages received through international Red Cross at Geneva from enemy occupied countries as well as Axis centers.

Please don't regard this as being asked to donate to the war fund but think of it and speak of it as a privilege granted you to do something for the armed forces.

Let the sign between the Hancock Bank and Mauffrays become a solid Red Cross before March 30. You can do it. And you will do it, won't you?

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

Inasmuch as the Third Interceptor Command has changed the requirements for "AIR RAID WARNING SERVICE" it is necessary that all citizens of our County be notified and advised of these changes. Therefore, on WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31ST, 1943 at 1:30 P. M., the new signals will be blasted by our air raid horn so that all persons of interest may familiarize themselves with the changes of "Air Raid Warning Service."

H. GRADY PERKINS,
Sub-District Warning Officer.

HOME ON TEN-DAY FURLOUGH

Lieutenant Chapman Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marshall of this city, is home on a ten-day furlough from his base where he came from in the middle East.

Lt. Marshall, who was commissioned from civilian life in the Ferry Command. He has just received his ribbons for the theater of operations for service in Asia, Africa and the Caribbean Sea.

Bay St. Louis is justly proud of this 22-year-old lieutenant who is carrying the responsibility of older and more experienced flyers.

of qualification, which upon presentation at the time of voluntary or regular induction, will assure his assignment to a Replacement Training Center as a Potential Army Specialized Training Program trainee. If it is then determined that he is potential officer candidate material, he will be assigned to an Army Specialized Training Unit as an enlisted man on active duty, receiving the pay of a private seventh grade, to pursue a curriculum of study for which he has shown himself qualified. Individual choice of curriculum will be given serious consideration, although the Army will assign each candidate to the curriculum for which his aptitudes indicate him best suited.

MAJOR NOLAN R. PEYROUX FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Funeral to be Held Friday
At 3 O'Clock From First Methodist Church

Major Nolan R. Peyroux died suddenly Tuesday at Camp Davis, N. C., officers Anti Air Craft Training School.

Major Peyroux served in World War No. 1, was commissioned Lieutenant and in Army Reserves until 1933 when he was called to organize a C. C. Camp at Alexandria and was commissioned Captain. He also organized a camp at Saucier, Miss.

At the time of the United States entering World War No. 2 he was placed in charge of the recreational unit at Camp Shelby but was later transferred to Camp Edwards, Mass., and then to Camp Davis.

Major Peyroux spent his young life in Bay St. Louis, was a graduate of Bay High and took his higher training at Tulane and L. S. U.

He was well known in Gulfport where he often visited at the home of his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Paul Delcuzze who made their home there until very recently when they moved to Bay St. Louis.

He is survived by his stepfather and mother Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Douglass of Jacksonville, Texas; two aunts Mrs. S. C. Moore of Shreveport, La., Miss Inez Peyroux of New Orleans and an uncle Paul V. Delcuzze of Bay St. Louis.

The body will reach Bay St. Louis Thursday night and the funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Main Street Methodist church.

The Echo feels an almost personal loss in the death of Major Peyroux for he grew up with the home boys and was a son of the former Miss Laura Fayard whose wedding to his father was the first to be performed in the new Methodist Church building from which Major Peyroux will be buried.

To the family we extend our heart felt sympathy in their loss and in our country's loss.

Lenten Regulations Dispensed With In Diocese of Natchez

Very Reverend Andrew J. Gmelch, Pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, has received from his Excellency the Most Reverend R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, a directive dispensing the Clergy, Religious and Laity of the Diocese of Natchez from the general law of fasting and abstinence for the duration of the war, with the following exceptions:

"Dear Father:

Considering the fact that it is becoming increasingly difficult to procure various foods which have been easily obtainable in the past, and feeling that under existing conditions dispensation from the customary laws of fast and abstinence is justified, We, by virtue of the special faculty granted by our Holy Father on December 19, 1941, hereby dispense the Clergy, Religious, and Laity of the Diocese of Natchez from the general law of fasting and abstinence for the duration of the war, with the following exceptions:

1. All Fridays of the year shall be observed as days of abstinence from meat.

2. Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, and the afternoon of Holy Saturday shall be observed as days of fasting and abstinence.

It is urged that all who avail themselves of the dispensation shall voluntarily perform other acts of mortification and penance.

We exhort the faithful to attend Mass and to receive communion daily, or frequently; to participate in the Lenten devotions; to perform acts of charity to the needy; and to pray for the intentions of our Holy Father.

GIVEN at Natchez the 22nd day of March, 1943.

R. O. GEROW,
Bishop of Natchez.

Jos. B. Brunini
Chancellor.

Mailing of Chain Letters And Post Cards Prohibited Under Postal Regulations

It has been reported that chain letters have been placed in the local post office. The Postmaster Leo G. Ford has asked that we call the attention of the public to the postal regulations which prohibit the mailing of chain letters and post cards of any type.

Mailing of chain letters and cards is strictly against postal regulations, and the post office authorities wish to notify any who have mailed, or who are contemplating mailing any such letters or post cards, that they are subject to prosecution, and that reports will be forwarded to the Postal Inspectors for investigation and prosecution, if any postal laws have been violated.

REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION

PVT. WILLIE E. RUFFIN

As the war goes on from day to day sad news may be expected to be received by parents of many of our boys who are serving in the armed forces of our country. Our hearts go out to the parents of these boys.

This past week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruffin of Logtown received from General Ulio, the Adjutant General, the following telegram:

"The Secretary of War desires me to express his deep regret that your son, Private First Class Willie E. Ruffin, has this date been reported as missing in action in North African Area since February 17. Additional information will be sent you when received."

Willie Ruffin was a splendid young man, admired and respected by all who knew him, and particularly by the people of his own community where he was best known.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin have the sincere sympathy of the people of this county, and we hope and pray that their son is only missing and that he has not lost his life for his country, and that God may answer the prayers of many and return this young man safely to make his aged parents happy in their declining years.

This report brings to seven the number of boys from Hancock County who have either been reported dead or missing in action since the declaration of war, and this is the first report that has come from the North African Area.

LARGEST PARADE HELD

Monday Afternoon—Preceded Mass Meeting Held Monday Night

Everyone loves a parade, and everyone who was able to be, was out on Monday afternoon to view the gigantic parade of the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross and Office of Civilian Defense which formed at Bay High School and to the tune of lively marches, wended its way down Carroll avenue to the Beach, along the Beach to Union Street, thence along Second Street and back to Bay High School where it disbanded.

The parade was headed by the band from the Merchant Marine Cadet Training Base and a detachment of cadets.

Lending a keen patriotic air were representatives of each civic organization, namely Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross, Civilian Defense, American Legion, Spanish American Veterans, Knights of Columbus, Masonic Temple, Bay-Wave Land Garden Club, Boy Scout Troops 217 and 208, Girl Scouts Troops 1 and 2, Bay-Waveland Rotary Club, Women's Benefit Association, Italian Society, Bay High P. T. A., St. Joseph Mothers Club, and student bodies of Bay High School, St. Joseph Academy and St. Stanislaus College, each carrying American flags.

Then came private cars in which were riding persons prominently identified with the local chapter of American Red Cross, Junior Red Cross, Bay High School and St. Joseph Academy and the Volunteer Office of Civilian Defense.

The Bay High School and St. Stanislaus College Bands assisted the Marine Band in providing music and marches played along the route which the parade pursued and were resplendent in their handsome uniforms and with the Bay Hi School's drum major and majorettes displaying artistry in the handling of their batons.

The parade preceded the mass meeting of the Civilian Defense and Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross which was held later in the evening in the auditorium of Bay High School, and was directed by Mrs. George R. Rea, Assistant Director of the Civilian Defense Office.

Ensign Billie Goldman Home on Furlough

Ensign Billie Goldman is with his parents for a ten-day stay from the Pacific theater of war. He seems to be taking Navy life with the same happy spirit that he took his school and college days. Billie comes from a family of Naval courage on his father, Lieutenant Commander J. Briscoe Goldman's side and from meeting life with a smile on his mother's side who after all is fighting the greatest fight with a husband and three sons in the service.

Ensign Goldman was a member of the first graduating class of the Tulane Naval R. O. T. C. Unit and received his commission in May at the same time that he received his degree from the Tulane College of Engineering.

The 22-year-old officer, experienced by five major naval and air battles in the Southwest Pacific, expressed the belief that a surface engagement is far worse than an air attack. "Especially is that so in night engagements, when you are blindly feeling for the enemy, not knowing when he is going to strike at you," he said.

Close Combat

Some of the night battles are fought at such close range, that "sometimes you are within spitting distance" of the enemy while his guns are blasting away at you," Ensign Goldman said.

"The Japs are not only going to be hard to beat because they don't know when to quit, but also because of their beautiful system of operational bases in the South Pacific," he continued. "They are good planners and quick to imitate. They will take something the enemy has and use it on him."

The young ensign told of one encounter with the Japs when they were intercepted en route on Guadalcanal. "Because the Japs fired bombardment shells while the American vessels were using armor piercers, we blew them out of the water," he said.

Admiral of Halsey

An admirer of Admiral William F. Halsey, Ensign Goldman said the American commander in the Southwest Pacific has the "touch of a Nelson" and will risk ships when necessary. "If the enemy has a battleship and we have a cruiser, we fight," he said.

"As for my ship, it's the 'fighting' baby in the navy," he said proudly.

MISSION TO END SATURDAY

Large Attendance Expected
On Last Two Days.

On Saturday night, March 21, at 7:30 P. M. Reverend Monsignor Peter M. H. Wynhoven opened a mission of one week's duration at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. In his opening sermon he stressed that men should be doers and not hearers only of the laws of their Creator—then he pointed out with the most awe-inspiring capabilities which are characteristically his, that a Mission above all other times, is a time of special grace or help from God for any parish.

Perhaps the most beautiful comparison used in his entire series of sermons was drawn between the acceptance of gifts from our human friends and the gratitude or ingratitude shown for them, and the appreciation of men for gifts from the giver of every good and perfect gift—God himself—and the baseness and cheapness of the ingratitude we show to him our best friend for what he so freely gives us.

How many in the parish can say that he—God—has received true appreciation for His gifts to our town this week?

There are still two more days before the Mission will close. Let it not be said that Bay St. Louis did not accept this time of Grace from God graciously.

The final blessing will be given on Saturday night after the 7:30 sermon, which will mark the closing of the Mission. Everyone who wishes to receive the full benefit of the Mission should attend this exercise. The children's Mission was closed after the 8:00 o'clock Mass on Thursday morning with the imparting of the Pope's Blessing to those attending.

The Rev. Monsignor Peter M. H. Wynhoven preacher of our Mission is Rector of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in New Orleans, La., has to his credit five books as an author and has seen materialized a life-long and cherished dream—in the founding and successfully establishing of Hope Haven and Madonna Manor, Homes for Boys and girls at Marrero, Louisiana.

BUJ'S LETTER

Dear Re-

Well, if I see in the papers is about the place we are going to have after the war. Now, I'm for peace Red, but it looks like some people forget just what it is. Around Briar Hill (that's my home) we define peace as the "ability to knock the other fellow insensible first with the biggest hickory club."

After thinking it over, I have decided there are two kinds of peace. The first is a friendly peace, achieved thru the process of free trade, honest dealing and love of one's fellowman. This peace seems impossible to achieve now because of the internal conflicts already arising in some countries.

The second kind of peace is a military peace (The Briar Hill variety); achieved thru policing an enemy by use of military tactics. This is bad for several reasons. Once a country starts policing another, the hatreds that arise are almost beyond the human conception. There can be no end to it. Also, the military must take control of many governmental functions. The military must be kept almost at war strength, necessitating an armed force of several million men.

Now R. A., any nation that keeps an army of wartime strength, even in peace, will eventually become a military nation. A military nation of trained men is eventually going to have to fight because of its own momentum. The people, thru Congress, are going to have to prepare for it. BUD.

Bay High School's Auditorium was filled to overflowing on Monday by persons attending the joint mass meeting of the Volunteer Civilian Defense Office and the Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross which began shortly after 8 o'clock.

Immediately after the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the members of the Bay High School Band under the direction of Mr. Rooney, Mr. Lucien M. Gex, Chairman of the War Fund Drive of the American Red Cross opened the meeting stating that Bay St. Louis earlier in the day had witnessed possibly the largest parade in its history which had been sponsored by the local Chapter of Red Cross and the Office of Civilian Defense. Mr. Gex then introduced to the audience Mr. Lewis W. Link, Field Director of the American Red Cross who is also stationed at Keesler Field, who in turn introduced Mr. William Colhoun, Field Director at Keesler Field as the main speaker of the evening.

Mr. Colhoun in a most interesting manner stated that the Home Service department of the many chapters of American Red Cross was one of the most important services rendered and cited a number of interesting cases in which the field Red Cross directors stationed at the army and navy camps throughout the country and also overseas in communication with the home service departments of the Red Cross chapters assisted in maintaining the physical and moral standards of service men everywhere. Mr. Colhoun cited instances where the Red Cross had assisted in rehabilitating disaster victims, and spoke of the services offered in the field of emergency furloughs which is one of the largest and most important of their work.

The speaker also mentioned the importance of the Water Safety Program of the American Red Cross stating that it had added the teaching of soldiers and sailors to swim in order that they might be able to save themselves in the event of the torpedoing of transport ships at sea.

In conclusion, Mr. Colhoun stated that more than $55,000.00 had been expended by the American Red Cross at Keesler Field alone in assisting soldiers and urged everyone to have no hesitancy in giving to the Red Cross because of any skepticism as to the proper spending of their donations.

The remainder of the evening's program was given over to addresses by Mr. Joseph O. Mauffray who reminded the audience of the great founder of the American Red Cross, Clara Barton, and the intense suffering endured by soldiers in the Civil War when there was no Red Cross to assist.

Mr. Gex made a stirring appeal to the people of Hancock County to meet the quota of $5700.00 which the Hancock Chapter of American Red Cross must raise.

The Civilian Defense part of the program was opened by Mr. A. E. Cox, Chief Air Raid Warden, who spoke of the changes in the air raid warning signals.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald in a very precise and brief address stated that little more than a year ago, the Civilian Defense office had been organized and our government was urging us not to cease vigilance and lose interest because we had been fortunate enough not to have suffered any disaster, but continue to prepare ourselves to meet any emergency which might occur.

Brother Linus, Vice President of St. Stanislaus, gave a most informative and interesting discourse on the service being rendered by the boys at the college in the Air Craft Warning Service, stating that two of the boys had over two hundred hours service, the station being open from 6:30 A. M. until 8:00 P. M. each day, and also serving were three English boys who had experienced actual bombings of English cities.

The motion pictures "Fire Fighting" and "New Air Raid Warning System" were shown through the courtesy of Brother Timothy, Brother Felician of S. S. C. and Reverend Father Kist of St. Augustine Seminary, at the conclusion of which the audience repeated the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag which was led by the Honorable H. Grady Perkins, the flag bearer being William Landry of Boy Scout Troop 208.

A. & G. THEATER TO SHOW "HARD WAY" SUNDAY-MONDAY

A Powerful Drama of Sister Love

A powerful story of a woman's misguided devotion for her young sister is portrayed in Warner Bros. moving drama, "The Hard Way," which will open at the A. and G. Theater Sunday.

The story deals with Helen Chernen, a woman with great innate potentialities who is forced by unfortunate circumstances to remain in a grimy, sordid town where everything is touched with the gray dust of the coal mines.

Disgusted and embittered with her miserable lot, she is determined that her lovely young sister shall fare better.

Her opportunity arises when a second rate vaudeville team, Runkel and Collins (played by Jack Carson and Dennis Morgan) appears at the local vaudeville house. She takes advantage of Albert Runkel's admiration for Katherine to foment a marriage between the two, and when the troupe leaves on a tour Helen and Katherine are aboard.

From then on it is no holds barred for Helen. Armed with a fierce love for her sister and a dogged determination she sets about getting what she wants. Those in the way of her goal are ploughed down with mechanical ruthlessness.

Katherine, with the aid of Helen climbs higher and higher, achieving success after success until, aware that there will be no success from her sister's ambitions for her, she puts an abrupt stop to the whole. Ida Lupino is superb as Helen Chernen. Watching her in her steady pursuit of success, her singlemindedness of purpose, one is moved, despite her tactics in admiration, then pity, for a clever, misguided woman.

Joan Leslie gives a moving performance as young, unspoiled Katherine, eager for life. Dennis Morgan as Collins, cynical, ever aware of Helen's purpose, yet fascinated in spite of himself and Jack Carson as simple, home-loving Albert Runkel who should have been a farmer, yet forced by a queer sort of fate to be in show business, give memorable performances. An able supporting cast featuring Gladys George, Faye Emerson, John Cavanaugh and many others, make this film one of the season's finest.

Hedy Lamarr brings to the screen the sultry Tondelayo in a gripping screen version of the famous stage play, "White Cargo." Teamed with Walter Pidgeon in this dynamic drama, she proves an alluring heroine, wears a luring for the first time, and the play, in its modern screen technique, takes on vivid new life.

It is a story dealing with the moist, steaming tropics where a group of white men oversee a rubber plantation. Pidgeon is Witzel, sullen and hard-bitten overseer. Bramwell Fletcher plays his assistant who deteriorates in the heat and brutality of the jungles. Richard Carlson plays a young executive sent to replace Fletcher, and Tondelayo's charms captivate him, in spite of Pidgeon's warnings. Finally the young assistant marries Tondelayo, precipitating a dramatic, primitive situation. Frank Morgan plays the bibulous but kindly old doctor in the jungle station, and Henry O'Neill a clergyman in the settlement.

Miss Lamarr was never more exotic than as the dark-skinned Tondelayo, and Pidgeon handles his role with rugged strength. Carlson as the romantic young assistant is appealing and wins great sympathy when his "bride" attempts to poison him. Richard Thorpe directed the picture with subtlety and skill. The jungle scenes, including those in which actual rubber plants were transplanted and kept alive by chemical means, are convincingly real.

To the Jenkins Family The American Spirit HAS SEVEN FACES

Seven sons fighting all over the world for the one thing that ONLY AMERICANS HAVE

These fighters for freedom are the sons of Robert M. Jenkins, formerly station agent at Deatsville, Alabama, who served the L. & N. for over fifty years. That fifty-year record of loyal service is unusual but he gave to the war something matched by hardly any other parent in America—six fighting sons with the seventh in a war industry.

What inspired this group from a single family to leap to the defense of home and country? What steered that courageous father to see them go with never a quaver in his last goodbye, never a shrinking from his major sacrifice?

It was the American Spirit! And the sons of this typical American are just seven of one hundred and thirty million of such symbols.

That spirit has grown strong on two freedoms which ONLY Americans have to the full... Freedom of the Individual and Freedom of Industry.

1. Freedom of the Individual means...

Freedom of speech and worship. Freedom to progress faster by working harder, doing more. Freedom to save and venture money, time, or labor, for the sake of greater gain. Freedom to do and dare, to seek the highest rewards—or, for that matter, freedom to refrain from doing those things.

2. Freedom of Industry means...

Freedom of the thrifty to invest in business. Freedom to seek a fair profit—and to create an enterprise that gives labor more jobs at better wages. Freedom of business to operate under the management of men selected by merit.

It also means freedom to plan, to employ research and invention, to stimulate and supply new wants, to lower costs of production, to do as Free Enterprise has done in raising living standards in the United States higher than those of any other country in the world.

These are the fundamental freedoms—born with America—which have nurtured the American Spirit—given our country its unmatched development. It is that spirit which sustained Robert Jenkins through his long career, and now sustains his seven sons in their wartime posts. Those seven sons are fighting now to maintain those freedoms and all the things for which they stand... fighting for all the things we, too, at home must keep alive.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE RAILROAD

The L&N, like other railroads which share in today's wartime marvel of transportation, is a product of the American Spirit. Because of this Spirit, the Old Reliable has been able to help mightily in the South's development; aiding alike the merchant, the miner, the farmer, the manufacturer, and (for least) the laborer; contributing materially in taxes to fine schools, good roads and other public services; serving new the cause of victory for all America.

LEND-LEASE EXTENSION

Congress voted, almost unanimously, to extend for one year (to June 1944) the provisions of the Lend-Lease Act under which we and our allies exchange military and, in some instances, civilian supplies. Through Lend-Lease we have been able to assist in supplying and arming our allies, and our allies are beginning to repay us by aiding our own boys overseas.

Lend-Lease has played an important role in the victories which have been won by the United Nations. How much greater would have been the problem of England and after Dunkirk had we not before we entered the war sent her 1,000,000 rifles, 60,000 machine guns, 895 artillery pieces and other material of war? These contributions may well have turned the Nazi tide back from the Dover Cliffs.

It is not difficult to imagine that had we not sent Lend-Lease to Russia some 2,600 planes, 3,200 tanks, and 81,000 trucks the German Army thrust might not have been broken. And it is also reasonable to assume that had we not sent 1,000 planes, 20,000 trucks, hundreds of tanks and other equipment to Egypt the British Eighth Army possibly could not have driven Rommel back to the Tunisian peninsula. Furthermore, the troops and Lend-Lease supplies which we have sent to Australia have no doubt prevented large-scale Japanese successes in Australia and New Zealand.

Lend Lease still has before it the gigantic task of getting more material aid to China over tortuous routes as well as the job of continuing and increasing its flow of supplies to other allies. But ways and means will no doubt be found to continue this necessary assistance to our allies who are so actively engaged in fighting our common enemy.

It has often been said that the American soldier is the best fed soldier in the world. If it is true that a soldier fights on his stomach then we can understand the reasoning for the statement that the American soldier is the best fighting man in the world. The United States News has recently compiled some very interesting figures showing the average consumption of food by the American soldier and the average American civilian.

According to these figures, the average American soldier consumes 2,625 pounds of food a year, while the average civilian consumes only 1,975 pounds. Of course, these figures are based upon the new recruiting program—the civilian being rationed and the soldier receiving the rations. The division of the various products consumed by the soldier and the civilian is as follows:

|            | (Per Year) |
|------------|------------|
| Pounds     |            |
| 1,023      |            |
| 800        |            |
| 274        |            |
| 365        |            |
| 68         |            |
| 45         |            |
| 39         |            |
| 11         |            |
| (Per Year) |            |
| Pounds     |            |
| 773        |            |
| 528        |            |
| 347        |            |
| 181        |            |
| 62         |            |
| 28         |            |
| 36         |            |
| 10         |            |

The rations of the soldier and the food of the civilian vary widely in some items of food while there is only a slight difference in other items. A survey for example, shows that the soldier eats twice as much meat, fish, and meat substitutes as a civilian. He also eats larger quantities of fruits, vegetables, and dairy products. Only food that comes from grain such as bread and cereals, will the civilian consume more this year than the soldier. This, of course, is due in part to the plentiful supplies of grain that civilians must substitute for less plentiful foods.

Farmers' Problem

No one likes to hear another say "I told you so." But at the risk of such criticism we are going to stick our necks out and refer to the statements which were made on the floor of the house at this column many months ago when the price Control Bill was up and the question of placing a ceiling on farm prices was being considered. It will be recalled that at that time the Administration took a position at odds with the Congress. The House wrote safeguards into the Price Control Bill which would prevent the Price Administrator from placing a ceiling on farm products at over 110 percent of parity. The President appealed to the country in one of his famous "fireside chats" against the provision of the law. The result was that the Administration succeeded in killing this provision in the Senate when that Bill was being considered there.

As a matter of fact, the farmers were held up to the country as saboteurs to the war program. Many of us pointed out then that if this program of the Administration were followed there would not be sufficient food produced to meet the war and civilian requirements. We said that if this policy were followed, people would go hungry in this country. But the Administrator's views prevailed. The farmer's prices were limited to a point where he could not compete with the government in the matter of labor as all of the labor went to the government war products or was drafted into the Army.

Now the Administration is becoming feverishly excited about the shortage of farm manpower and there are many schemes being advanced as to how to relieve this. Now, too, Congress has awakened to the full realization that it was right in the first place and should not have receded from its job of giving the proper incentive to the farmer to plant and grow the necessary farm products.

Those members of the house interested in agriculture and the farmers' plight met in an informal caucus meeting and discussed the matter for several hours. A committee has been selected of one member from each state to endeavor to arrive at some proper solution of the problem and to grant some relief to the farmers and the country whom they serve from the chaos that now exists.

Letters From The Boys In Service

From Pfc. Ernest Milam, now in North Africa:

Dear Sir:

Greetings from North Africa. Just finished reading the Echo which my buddy Pvt. Marion Beal shares with me until mine can catch up with me. From what I gather from the latest issue, the old home town is right in there pitching.

Marion and I eagerly await the arrival of the Echo. It is one of the most important pieces of mail that we get. Through it we keep up with the weekly events and news of the Bay, which means a lot to us. It also keeps us informed of the whereabouts of our buddies. So to you, Mr. Favre, and all connected with the Echo who make this possible, Marion and I say, thanks a million.

Sincerely,

Pfc. Ernest Milam.

From J. C. Roland, somewhere in North Africa:

Dear Rouge:

Just a short line to say "hello," and to let you know that all's well on this side of the pond.

Before I forget it, please accept my belated congratulations on that 10th arrival—that's keeping 'em flying!

I wish to thank you very kindly for the Echo. It is now coming in regularly again; as a matter of fact, except for travel time between England and here, I've always received it on time. You can rest assured that we fellows in the service appreciate home news.

Due to strict censorship, I can write very little about the location, etc., of the 3rd port. I will state, however, that we're on the go night and day working every minute with a view of shortening the time when we'll be able to return to the good old U. S. A.

I trust this letter will find you and your family in the best of health.

With kindest personal regards, I am,

Your friend,

J. C.

From Pvt. William Louis Thigpen, Jr., Camp Maxey, Texas:

Dear Mr. Favre:

I have been receiving the Sea Coast Echo weekly for the last two months and I enjoy reading the news from home. I appreciate your having it sent to me, and thanks very much for putting my picture in the paper. I can never thank you enough for your kindness.

Tell all my folks and friends hello, and that I like army life O. K.

Pvt. William Louis Thigpen.

From Pvt. Hilman Ladner, Fort D. A. Russell, Texas:

Dear Mr. Favre:

I receive the Echo weekly and I want to thank you for making it available to me. I certainly do enjoy reading in the home news. It really helps a fellow to read the news from home when he is so far away. There are several other boys from Hancock County here who enjoy reading it with me.

Thanking you very much, I am,

Yours very truly,

Pvt. Hilman Ladner.

From Pfc. Leroy T. Luke, Camp Phillips, Kansas:

Dear Sir:

I have been receiving the Echo regularly and am very glad, indeed, to get the news from home.

Many thanks.

Your friend,

Leroy Luke.

From Sgt. Edgar J. Perre, stationed somewhere in the Islands of the Pacific:

Dear Red:

I have been receiving your paper for some time now and I have been so busy, I have neglected to thank you personally. I have informed my family of your thoughtfulness in sending so nice a gift and they sincerely appreciate your generosity. I receive interesting news of the utmost importance from the Echo concerning the whereabouts of friends and relatives, and especially my brother.

The food here is delicious (I'm the Mess Sergeant) and I'm feeling as well as could be expected under the circumstances. My biggest problem to date is the introduction of shoes to my native female companions.

I wish to be remembered to your family and hope this letter finds them in the best of health.

I also wish to thank Walter Gex for his gift. The radio is an invaluable source of entertainment and news.

Thanking you again for the Echo, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

Mgt. E. J. Perre.

The following is a letter received by Brother Romuald from Philip Scaffidi, one of his former music pupils, now in India, California:

Dear Brother Romuald:

Well, I guess this will be a big surprise to you, hearing from me. I have a few things I would like to tell you and which I am sure will do some good to some of the boys in your band. They have done me a lot of good and I want to thank you for all that you have done for me, especially during the time I was in the Stanislaus Band.

First, I want to tell you what the marching practice I got with the band has done for me. I refer to the right and left flanks, to the rear and the oblique, right and left maneuvers. After the first drill on these, I was excused from further practice and I am proud of the fact that I have been given charge of drilling other boys. This is quite an honor for a private. Brother, please tell this to your band because there will be some of them that will go into the Army and whatever they learn from you in marching will do them a lot of good, and it won't be so hard when they get to the basic training.

How are you and the band making out? Tell the boys, I wish them a lot of luck.

You know, brother Romuald, I have been every place except H—, but boy, I think I finally got to it. I am now in the desert and is it hot? I bet I'll be as black as coal when I get back home.

Here is my work in Q. M. C.—I am in charge of sterilizing the soldiers' clothes after these boys return from a three or four week stay on the battle field. I even give them what we call a sterile bath.

It is getting late and time for the lights to go off so I'll close hoping to hear from you real soon, because I would like to know how all of you are making out.

Very sincerely yours,

Pvt. Philip Scaffidi.

From Pvt. William E. (Bill) Lee, Geiger Field, Washington:

Dear Mr. Favre:

I have been changing addresses so often here lately that I haven't gotten the Echo for quite a while now, and I surely have missed it.

I graduated from A. M. School in Amarillo, Texas and was sent to Long Beach, California for an advanced course. I graduated there February 5th and was shipped to Salt Lake City, Utah, where I stayed for three weeks. While there I was assigned to a Heavy Bombardment Squadron of the Flying Fortress and was shipped here to Geiger Field, Washington, where I will do line duty as a B-17 specialist.

I am now ready for overseas duty. I hope I can get home on a furlough before going over—would love to see all my good old friends back in dear old Hancock County. I wish to say to them that I am now ready for a scrap with a Jap.

Thanking you again, and your staff for your kindness to the boys in service.

Yours very truly,

Pvt. Willie E. (Bill) Lee.

From Ralph Saucier, Area Coastal Patrol, Galveston, Texas:

Dear Red:

I have been receiving the Sea Coast Echo weekly and I'm now dropping you a line to let you know I'm really proud to receive it. It is real nice when one can sit down and read about the folks back home and also about the boys in service—where they are and what they are doing. I think you are doing a real good job with the paper, and I hope you will have continued success with it, and all your other work.

Yours truly,

Ralph.

FARM SECURITY ADMINISTRATOR SUGGESTS RAISING OF DAIRY CALVES

Farmers, save your dairy heifers and calves, urged Hubert B. Duckworth, Farm Security Administration supervisor in Hancock County. Due to present high prices of beef and veal, large numbers of dairy heifers and dairy heifer calves in some areas and being slaughtered, Mr. Duckworth reports. Even under normal conditions these cows are needed for replacements. Saving these heifers for replacement is especially necessary at this time if increased production of milk for the war effort is to be obtained.

It is also important that a reserve of replacements of dairy cows be established, Mr. Duckworth continued. After the war there will be a big demand, both in the United States and in foreign countries, for dairy cattle.

Mr. Duckworth said that Hancock County farmers should plan now to raise all heifer calves from their cows which are raised by good dairy bulls and they should discontinue the practice of breeding their dairy cows to beef bulls.

Hancock county farmers who can care for additional dairy cows, heifers or calves are urged to get in touch with the FSA office. Mr. Duckworth also points out that the Farm Security Administration will purchase good cows that would otherwise go to the slaughter block. These cows will be resold in the county if possible, or they will be shipped to nearby counties. Farmers in areas where there are many camps and war plants and in areas where there are milk processing plants will be given first consideration in the program.

THE County AGENTS COLUMN

A group of farmers of this county met at Catahoula school, March 1, at which time it was decided that a County Farm Bureau Organization affiliated with the State Farm Bureau Federation would be of great help to the farmers at this particular time. There were about twenty farmers present, of this twenty fourteen applied for membership. Officers for the county organization were elected as follows:

Randolph Seal, President.
Otho Rester, Vice President.
Lester Seal, Secretary.

Every farmer in Hancock County should belong to some farmers organization. Especially at times like the present, when the farmers are being called on to produce food and feed they have never before been called on to do in the history of our country. See one of the above officers of your county organization and apply for membership.

Nitrate Fertilizer Available

Farmers will be able to buy about as much nitrate fertilizer materials this as they bought in 1941 and 1942, according to present information, as it is understood dealers are required to sell fertilizers on this basis. Farmers should contact their local dealer and fill out an application for fertilizer at the usual rate of buying nitrate materials, such as citrate of soda and sulphate of ammonia. This application calls for kinds and amounts of these materials used in 1941 and 1942, and statement of crops on which such fertilizers are to be used this year. The rates applied on an acre basis must not exceed the maximum recommended by the Mississippi Experiment Station. Oats may be top dressed in March as usual, with nitrate fertilizers.

Fertilizers will move into all localities as rapidly as possible during the season. Farmers will assist in bringing about an equitable distribution by not insisting on immediate delivery and adhering to the normal crop requirements and dates of deliveries as in previous years.

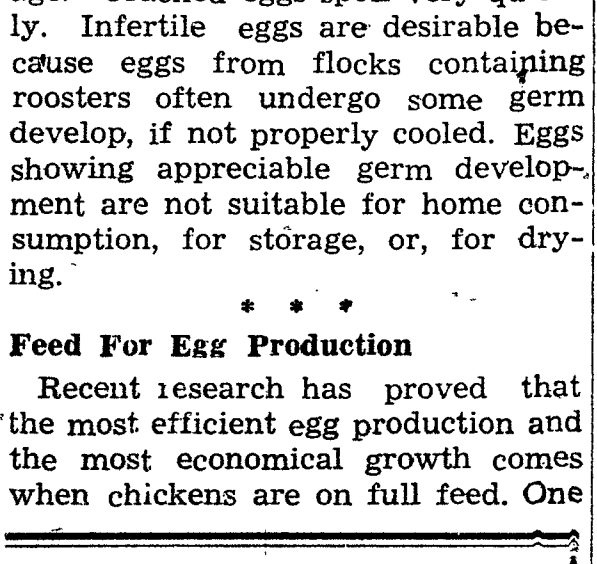

Buyers and sellers are required to adhere to Food Administration order No. 5, and should carry out their obligation in the normal spirit of fairness, equity and honesty. Then no farmer should go without his actual requirements for fertilizers this year.

The increased demand for eggs has led to some carelessness in the care of eggs by poultrymen and egg handlers. Minimum requirements for eggs to be used for better nutrition of our people at home, our armed forces, and our Allies are clean, infertile eggs, with sound shells. The production of clean eggs with sound shells is obtained by good management. A nest for each 5 hens or 20 nests for a flock of 100, filled with a deep litter, assists in preventing soiled and cracked eggs.

If these two practices, ample nests and litter are accompanied by frequent gathering, little difficulty will be experienced from soiled or broken eggs. The occasional soiled spot on an egg is easily removed by sandpaper tacked to a block of wood. The use of cup flats over the top layer in the egg case in packing will reduce breakage during transportation. Soiled eggs have less value than unsoiled eggs on the market. Sound shells furnish a barrier against spoilage. Cracked eggs spoil very quickly. Infertile eggs are desirable because eggs from flocks containing roosters often undergo some germ development, if not properly cooled. Eggs showing appreciable germ development are not suitable for home consumption, for storage, or for drying.

Feed For Egg Production

Recent research has proved that the most efficient egg production and the most economical growth comes when chickens are on full feed. One experiment showed conclusively that a cut of 25 percent on the food supply reduced egg production 50 percent. Generous feeding of a high-quality, properly balanced feed is necessary to reach the egg production goals. For the nation as a whole it is much cheaper to obtain the extra eggs needed from the birds now on farms than to get a few more eggs from a larger number of hens. The slogan "Keep 'Em Fed" should be put into practice by every poultry raiser. This applies both to quality and quantity of feeds. The last few pounds of properly balanced feed that the birds can be induced to consume are the most important pounds from a production standpoint.

MARMADUKE MOTH SAYS-

"WHAT A SITUATION! I'LL BE IN THE RAG LINE YET!"

Garner's Laundry &amp; Cleaners

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Ed Carey, our fire chief, was madder'n a hornet last week. "Say!" he yells. "Do you know what that fellow Goebels is doing? He's telling folks over the radio that American army camps are full of drunkenness!"

"Pretty stupid propaganda, even for the Nazis," says I. "How so?" says Ed.

"Because," I says, "people realize that if Goebels wants beer taken away from our soldiers—there must be a reason. The enemy won't stop anything that's hurting our army. They'll try to stop whatever's helping it." "Say! That's true, ain't it?" Ed began to grin.

From where I sit—I can guess why Goebels wants beer out of the camps. The Nazis would a heap rather face an army that already lost its rights than one that was fighting for freedom it could touch and taste and feel every day... Wouldn't you?

PORK and BEEF

WILL BRING THE AXIS GRIEF!

24 BILLION
Pounds Of Pork
And Beef Is The Wartime Goal
Of American Farmers

Two billion pounds of beef for our soldiers, sailors and allies! Five billion pounds of pork for our armed forces and lend-lease shipment! Eight billion pounds of pork and nine billion pounds of beef and veal for our civilian population and our war workers! Twenty-four billion pounds of pork and beef! That is the unprecedented meat production goal set up by the United States Department of Agriculture for American farmers in 1943.

To reach the 1943 meat goal, American farmers are asked to market 97,000,000 hogs; 30,400,000 head of cattle and calves; and 24,000,000 sheep and lambs. They are asked to feed hogs to ten pounds heavier weight and to put all of the gain possible on cattle and calves, sheep and lambs.

The unlimited demand and wartime need for meat, and the high prices for livestock should encourage farmers to raise all of the cattle and hogs they can. Farmers can increase the number of hogs quickly. They can raise two litters of pigs per year. They can prepare them for market by the time they are seven to nine months old. Cured pork keeps well — can be shipped long distances. All members of the farm family can help raise hogs. Ham and eggs, bacon and eggs, are fighting food.

Plenty Of Good Meat For Our Fighting Men

Beef is one of the choicest foods for fighting men. Every farmer who produces more hogs and cattle is helping to feed our soldiers who are fighting our battles. Meat is fighting food. Plenty of good meat will help keep our armed forces in fighting trim.

In 1943 Mississippi farmers are asked to breed 125,000 sows and gilts for spring pigs and to breed 113,000 sows and gilts for fall pigs. This is ten per cent more than in 1942. They are asked to raise 430,000 head of market cattle. This is 109,000 more than they raised last year.

HANCOCK COUNTY'S 1943 MEAT GOALS

Of the state goal Hancock County Farmers are asked to raise 7993 head of cattle and breed 570 sows and gilts. Every farmer in Hancock County is asked to do his part in reaching the County goal.

RANDOLPH W. SEAL
County War Board Chairman.

C. C. STONE
County Agent.

TO HELP YOU ACHIEVE MEAT GOALS

To achieve the hog goal farmers must breed every sow and gilt available. They must save every pig possible. They must feed hogs to heavier weights. Extension livestock specialists and your county agent can give you information on breeding, feeding, care and management. They urge producers to practice sanitation in the hog lot. Look after the sows at farrowing time. Put pigs on good pasture and feed them a concentrate ration. Provide a mineral mixture. Grow more feed. Plant grazing crops. Control diseases.

Beef cattle production provides one of the best means of utilizing forage crops and pasture grasses. Cattle production requires a minimum amount of labor. Cattle prices are high.

Good pasture is essential to economical beef production. Production of hay and silage is important. Farmers can increase grazing by improving permanent pastures. AAA payments are available for seeding, fertilizing and mowing pastures.

Tears won't help them... dollars will!

TEARs are not enough. Pity will not soothe whimpering orphans, nor shepherd them to safety from the blasted rubble of their home.

Long-range sighs won't feed and clothe the sick and hungry victims of this war.

But your Red Cross dollars will!

Transformed into relief supplies, medicines and trained supervisors, your dollars will follow in the wake of battle, taking with them aid and comfort.

Thanks to your contributions and many others like them, twenty millions of war victims have been helped by the American Red Cross in Europe, Africa and Asia, since the war began... To the bombed-out Britons, to Russian war orphans and wounded homeless, as to the stricken Chinese, the wretched Greeks and Poles wandering throughout the Middle East, the Red Cross has been their symbol of life and hope.

Think how many lives your dollars have already saved—and how much still depends on you! What a splendid satisfaction is yours, to be relieving the distress of friendless people engulfed by gigantic forces which they are too weak to resist!

Now opportunity is offered again. This is the most critical year your Red Cross has ever faced. On every hand, needs rise with the swelling thunder of the guns.

Will Red Cross funds be sufficient to help every soldier and sailor—every stunned and bewildered war sufferer? That depends on you—and your generosity.

March is Red Cross War Fund month. Give more this year—give double if you can.

The Town Parade

By Chesterfield Skinner

Everything seems mighty quiet around the old Burg the past few days. It may be that folks are just played out and again it may be that the Lenten season, has something to do with it. No doubt it is a good thing for man's physical well being as well as good for his soul, that he hibernates for a six week period every year. He takes his car to the garage for a check-up with great regularity, he gets his house cleaned and painted when it begins to look shabby, but his poor old carcass, he just keeps on abusing it day after day. In these times of labor shortage, the average fellow is trying to do the work of two or three persons and if some of them are not careful, they will burn themselves out. Still, up to this time in this country, we have plenty to be thankful for. At least our homes are not being burned, our women and children are not being starved and murdered as is the case in Europe. We are of a different mind in a national way, we could be in trouble on this hemisphere, but we are not a nation of hate. To get us to fight, you have to step on our toes, or gatch us looking the other way and give us a big kick in the pants. Then you better look out, brother, because you done started something.

I am glad to report that the Red Cross parade, held Monday, can only be considered as one of the very best, ever held in the Bay. It was colorful, with plenty good music and created wide interest in the Red Cross drive now under way. I am sure that Hancock County will more than subscribe their quota. We should do it folks, we sure should.

Contrary to the view taken by a great many people, I believe that when the rationing of meat goes into effect, the housewife, will find a more plentiful supply provided for her. As the thing has been working, the jobbers, have been dishing out meat to the retailers in just any old kind of system that they cared to use. As a result some communities have been practically without meat, while others have had a fair supply. Under the new set-up, it will be more evenly distributed. One thing the folks are learning here on the Coast is, that they can get along without meat if they have to do so. We can get along without plenty of other things, too. In fact, I think the following little make up which I will call, "The Wall of the Vanquished" will illustrate my point.

For many years, I was the King, For none ever could do better, When it comes to holding up pants and things,

I done my job to the letter. Then, along came a guy with a zipper And I had to right about face, For even on a ladies slip (per), ME a poor BUTTTON, had no place.
